

BALFOUR DISCUSSES ECONOMIC BLOCKADE

Nation Inviting Penalty Would Destroy Itself.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, July 29. (By The Associated Press.)—We must have an economic blockade," declared Arthur J. Balfour, British representative on the league of nations council, in a talk with newspaper correspondents on the program of the council which opens its eighth meeting here tomorrow. He considered the meeting an important one because among other things, the blockade question was considered in its agenda.

If an economic blockade was applied to a nation which defied the league, Mr. Balfour said he could not believe that nation would be able to resist for long. "No nation would destroy itself in these civilized times by inviting such a penalty," he added. "It is not likely it will often be used since it is not probable the league will often be defied."

Mr. Balfour gave it as his opinion that the league was suffering from two dangers—on the one hand from those people who said it was a useless organization, and, on the other hand, from those who believed that in the league had been found a remedy for all international difficulties. If the nations throw all their problems on it in these early days, he said, it will have been disgraced in the people's minds; he asserted, the league could not function properly; it must be given time to develop.

Turning to the Aland Islands question, over which he said a clash had been averted by Finland and Sweden referring the case to the league, Mr. Balfour cited it as an instance of the real effectiveness of the league for peace. But, he declared, behind discussions in such a case, there must be stronger sanctions and these were contemplated by the league.

IRISH LIEUTENANT IS ASSASSINATED

DUBLIN, July 29.—Frank Brooke, deputy lieutenant for County Wicklow, Leinster province, was shot dead at the Westland station in Dublin this morning, just after arriving from a train. His assassins escaped.

Brooke was a wealthy country gentleman and a close friend of Viscount French, the lord lieutenant, whom he visited frequently. Except for the fact of his close association with the viceroy, no particular reason for his assassination appeared up to this afternoon.

Frank Brooke, killed in Dublin today, was chairman of the Dublin and South-eastern railway and had connections with other business and corporate interests in Ireland. Born in 1861, he joined the navy in 1885 and retired in 1877 as a lieutenant. He was keenly interested in sports and was a steward of the Turf club. His previous interests in politics had been largely in connection with parliamentary campaigns, he having twice contested the south Fermanagh seat in the Unionist interest.

CAPTAIN IS KILLED BY GUARDSMAN

GALVESTON, Tex., July 29.—Herbert A. Robertson, a veteran of the world war and captain of the local company of national guardsmen which was shortly to go on duty here, was shot and killed early this morning by a sentry at the national guard camp.

According to information available, Robertson was passing the camp in his automobile and when he either failed to hear or disregarded the command of the sentry to halt, was fired upon. He died a few minutes later in the emergency hospital at the camp.

The Dead

PADUCAH, Ky.—William D. Womble, 51, died at his home here of acute indigestion. Mr. Womble is survived by his widow and two children. The funeral will be held here.

HALLS, Tenn.—Martin Cherry, 40, died Tuesday at the General hospital in Dyersburg. Mr. Cherry was the eldest son of Squire D. H. Cherry. Burial took place in the city cemetery Wednesday. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. J. Hilliard, of Dyersburg. He leaves a widow and two children.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with oatmeal and almond added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the sage tea and sulphur soap in the home, though it is troublesome, an easier way is to get the ready-to-use hair cream made by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Comb Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of mess.

While gray, faded hair is not similar to the hair of youth, it is not similar to the hair of old age. It is a hair of its own kind, and we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening our hair with the Comb Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does it so naturally. So, even if you are not a young person or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking the small strands of hair by the roots, all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application of two years hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Moving Pictures

Strand.

"Sick Abed," now at the Strand, is one of the liveliest Wallace Reid pictures ever screened. Reid, but all a moment, not even for film purposes, lies just shamming, according to the story, in order not to incriminate a friend of his in a divorce suit. And the pretty nurse by his bedside is none other than Bebe Daniels, the dusky beauty of "Male and Female" and "Why Change Your Wife?" "Sick Abed" will make real invalids forget their pains and cause well folks to roar with mirth.

Majestic.

Three men were in love with her and wanted to marry her—a gawky, village schoolmaster, a blue-blooded, college president, and a senator. That was the problem which confronted Barnabette, the heroine of "Erastus Susan," in which Constance Binney is now playing at the Majestic. How she solved it by a unique test will give you many a laugh, and at the same time warm your heart with sympathy for this modern Cinderella.

Princess.

A kindly old man, whose life has been harmless and uneventful, writes an imaginary diary representing himself as a gay old Lothario. What transpires when this diary falls into the hands of a girl who believes she has a mission in the basis for "Alma Bliss," starring Edith Roberts and directed by Harry Franklin. It is at the Princess Friday and Saturday.
